Manufacturing British

Step into any luxury hotel in one of London's finest postcodes and you are likely to find a unique and beautifully crafted piece of furniture designed and manufactured by Hospitality Projects...

Founded in 2017 by British Entrepreneur Paul Wise, Hospitality Projects began with the successful completion of the "Nobu Hotel Shoreditch." This initial success quickly spread through the industry, establishing Hospitality Projects as one of the leading providers of luxury bespoke furniture. Today, they design and manufacture furniture for some of the world's most prestigious brands, including Mandarin Oriental, The Dorchester, Soho House, Arts club, and The Four Seasons to mention a few. All of their products are designed and manufactured in the UK and shipped worldwide.

The team at Hospitality Projects consists of master artisans specialising in woodworking and furniture design that is both innovative and timeless. They source the finest materials and employ the highest quality craftsman to achieve the quality finishes demanded by high-end hotels.

Each project requires a bespoke approach that merges both aesthetic and functionality. SOHO HOUSE in Stockholm is one of the many projects brought to life by Hospitality Projects. This 19th Century Church features over 200 unique pieces of furniture manufactured by Hospitality Projects such as banquette sofas, chairs, dining tables and stools. Each piece was designed to complement the church's architecture and enhance its intimate, relaxing atmosphere.

For the NOBU Hotel Shoreditch, Hospitality Projects crafted over 80 bespoke pieces for the dining area, hotel lobby and bar. The designs incorporated natural timbers and neutral tones blending industrial chic and Japanese simplicity. The warm lighting in the space creates a welcoming, and relaxing atmosphere. Soft patterned fabrics with red silk accents and dark wood trims add elegance and sophistication.

The latest showcase from Hospitality Projects' is the soon to be unveiled Mandarin Oriental on Hanover Square in London. Manufacturing over 3500 items for the hotel, spa and residential spaces, including sofas, armchairs, coffee tables, dining tables, and chairs.

Hospitality Projects continues to push the boundaries of design and craftsmanship, setting new standards in bespoke furniture for the hospitality industry.
