HOSPITALITY EXPERIENCE & DESIGN

HOSPITALITY PROJECTS

Immersing ourselves in the vibrant essence of London's art, fashion, culture, and historic wealth, we crafted over 2000 bespoke items for the Mandarin Oriental Mayfair. Each piece was handcrafted in England.

of porcelain leaves, walk-in wardrobes lined with 'Portobello' gold silk wallpaper and other wallcoverings by De Gournay embellished with hand-embroidered flowers.

The spa's starlit colour-changing 25m pool is said to be the longest indoor swimming pool in Mayfair. There is also a 1,500m² gym, numerous vitality pools and a series of experience showers. "The pool area is identified with lights that seem to float in space, reflecting on the water surface and walls, creating an emotional connection with an abstract nature," explains Nicolas. "The most interesting element within the space is the tiered pool, designed to evoke the sense of a journey. As you swim from one side to the other, the colour of the water changes: refreshing with a light blue on one side, soothing with a darker colour on the other. The dark tones and primitive palette of wood and stone textures create a connection with nature and the purity of materiality, balanced by the delicate tones of warm bronze and candle-like warm lighting."

Here, Hospitality Projects worked with

Curiosity to create an environment that seamlessly blends natural wood, soft fabrics and textured finishes. They have created over 60 bespoke pieces for the spa, with a colour palette dominated by golds and creams in the warm wood finishes, rich fabrics and marbles that define the space.

Sustainability has been a key consideration throughout the development, with circular economy principles embedded into the design, resulting in a BREEAM Very Good rating. Hospitality Projects furnishings have been handcrafted in England using materials sourced to align with Mandarin Oriental's ESG requirements. The flexible structure of the construction will give it an extended lifespan, whilst that brick and stucco façade has been designed so that it can be dismantled and reused or recycled.

Still to come is a rooftop bar, opening later this year, and an Italian restaurant concept overlooking Hanover Square in early 2025, completing the Mandarin magic in Mayfair.
